New Strategic Partnership with Matica System

Dear Customers and Partners,

you probably heard about relevant news regarding Digital Identification Solutions (DISO) and we take this opportunity to update you and to share with you our excitement.

Last July, Matica System has become the major shareholder of DISO and Mr. Sandro Camilleri – Matica's Chairman and CEO– has now been appointed as the new CEO of DISO as well.

It's not just a change in ownership or a financial operation, but the first step of an authentic business venture, a deal which is a milestone for our industry.

Matica and DISO are perfectly complementary to each other in terms of products, markets and operational mode, and leveraging their leadership in their business sectors, will bring to clients significant advantages.

Matica System is a leading worldwide vendor of industrial card personalization and card mailing systems; its product portfolio includes proprietary designed and manufactured high speed, midrange and desktop solutions.

The main market for Matica has been the Financial sector, especially centralized and decentralized issuance of credit and banking cards. Constant investments on innovation – with 2 new R&D units in Italy and France - and a strong internal know how, allow Matica to have sound proprietary technology for all the relevant component of its solutions, with the support of a global network of top class distributors.

We are deeply convinced of the potential of this; over the next few weeks we'll follow up with more details regarding what's in this for you, but in the meantime feel free to contact, as usual, your regional contact person.

With best regards from the whole DISO-Matica team,
